Rush for vaccination

- Vaccination still a mirage for common man at many places
- Charaka Ayurveda Hospital stands out for efficient handling
- 'No stock' boards displayed at several Primary Health Centres
- Rich and affluent too line up at free vaccination booths

Mysuru, June 25 (MTY, RK & BCT)- Vaccinating the entire population in city will be a massive challenge given the present scenario prevalent at most of the vaccination centres. The supply shortage, however, has not been the only challenge as there are other issues too like planning, infrastructure, social bias and the divide between the rich and the poor.

While rich people will be vaccinated before poor people as they have easy access to different vaccine centres, thanks to their proximity with political party leaders, local politicians and also Ward-level committee members. On the other hand, the poor have to queue up in front of Primary Health Centres (PHCs) where vaccines are supplied in limited quantities. Even today 'No Stock' boards were displayed at many PHCs.

Special drives are being held at various points in city at Chamaraja, Krishnaraja and Narasimharaja Constituencies and a major portion of the vaccines that arrive as city quota are being allotted to these special drive centres based on the clout the MLA has over the Health Department. At many PHCs like Agrahara PHC and Vidyaranyapuram PHC 'No Stock' boards were displayed as early as 10.30 am today as only 100 vials were supplied there.

Several people who had come to take the jabs were turned away and some of them expressed displeasure over the exclusive supply of vaccines only for special drives instead of an equitable distribution to all vaccination booths. "There are ample vaccines only on paper but in the ground level there is a severe shortage. This is nothing but a gimmick," said Krishnaveni who had to go back home from the Agrahara PHC.

The special drive organised at BGS School in Ward 64 and Chaitra PU College Srirampura (Ward 65) got good response from residents as they lined up before the booths. Here too, later, only frontline workers were given preference and people in the 18-44 age group were asked to come another day. Vaccines — both first dose and second dose of Covishield and Covaxin — were administered to people above 45 years.

Increased footfall

Interestingly, the rich and all those who can easily afford paying for vaccines at Private Hospitals too are making a beeline in front of free vaccination centres increasing the footfall and the crowds. Private Hospitals, however, are reporting moderate vaccine entries. "We cannot tell the rich and the influential not to come here. But if they can spend Rs. 1,500 for a single meal, they can easily get vaccinated by paying money instead of causing rush here," a volunteer manning a vaccine centre told Star of Mysore.

MUDA to allot CA sites soon

250 CA sites available; Notification to be issued in a week

Mysuru, June 25 (RK&SSV)- The much-delayed distribution of Civic Amenities (CA) sites by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) will begin soon, said MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev.

Speaking to SOM here on Wednesday, he said that the Authority was making necessary preparation for the distribution of CA sites available with

H.V. Rajeev

MUDA, Housing Co-operative Societies and Private Land Developers across the city. Such sites will be distributed to organisations, associations and trusts that were working for the welfare of society.

"We have identified 250 CA sites and already decided for what purposes those sites have to be distributed. A notification for the distribution process will start within a week or ten days. Applications will be invited from the eligible associations/organisations for the allotment of those sites. Preparations are also in progress for the identification of more such sites and distributing it in the second round. The purpose of this is to help those Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) that are functioning in rented buildings," Rajeev said.

Recruit drama teachers for schools: Rangayana Director appeals to Minister Suresh Kumar

Mysuru, June 25 (PM&SSV)- Addanda C. Cariappa, Director of Karnataka's most coveted theatre repertoire Rangayana, has written a letter to Primary and Secondary Education Minister S. Suresh Kumar to give priority for the appointment of drama teachers in the coming recruitment drive for the selection of teachers for primary, middle and high school in accordance with the new National Education Policy (NEP) announced by the Government of India.

Addanda C. Cariappa

Cariappa said the previous Governments had appointed drama teachers but most of them have retired. Since then those vacancies have not been filled up. The Rangayana of Mysuru has been conducting one year diploma course under the name of Bharatiya Rangashikshana Kendra, affiliated to Karnatak University, Dharwad. Thousands of students have done this diploma course. Even Ninasam, Shivakumar Ranga Prayoga Shale of Sanehalli, Ranga Shale of Kundapura and other schools were also offering diploma course in dramatics. The diploma passed students could be considered during the selection to promote art among the students.

Recently, the State Government has announced a notification for the appointment of teachers but not drama teachers. In the wake of this, the Minister must take initiative for the appointment of drama teachers for primary, middle and high school classes. This will not only help thousands of students but it will also fulfil the aspirations of National Education Policy-2020, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India's spectacular count of 86 lakh doses, apparently to herald the revamped vaccination policy, showcases what the country is capable of, when vaccine supply meets demand. Remember, though, hopes were similarly raised when India notched 43 lakh doses on April 5. Things went downhill thereafter when the second wave peaked, vaccine production choked and Centre allowed States and private sector to directly purchase 50 percent of the depleting vaccine stocks. With some of those problems taken care of, taking vaccines to all people still remains a vast challenge.

Government officials have already said 80 lakh doses per day won't happen in the coming weeks. But meeting Centre's "vaccination for all" target by December 31 requires around 83 lakh doses daily, seven days a week. If the pace flags now, the required rate will grow steeper as we approach December. Boosting supply depends primarily on Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech delivering by July the 16 crore doses contracted by Centre in late April. Centre was entitled to just 50 percent of vaccine stocks then. If that translates to 8 crore doses available in the States' quota till July, Centre mustn't lose time in booking those doses too. Transparency in publishing vaccine allocations to States, stock positions and upcoming deliveries are crucial, not just for experts and the press, but people. — In The Times of India

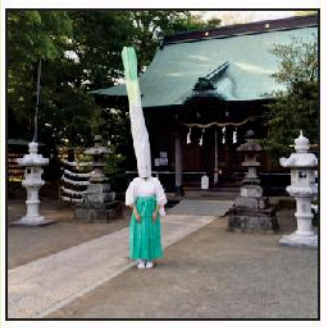
Exhibits ranking women by ugliness removed

Shanghai: 'Uglier and Uglier', a controversial artwork that ranked photos and videos of 5,000 different real-life women from ugly to ugliest, was removed by a Shanghai-based gallery following public outcry.

Created by artist Song Ta, 'Uglier and Uglier' featured photos and clips of thousands of women on a university campus ranked by how unattractive he found them. Song reportedly created the controversial exhibit in 2013 and showcased it in several art galleries since, but its latest outing at the OCAT Shanghai gallery was met with so much criticism from the public that it was eventually taken down.

The fact that Song Ta once said that he and his assistants ranked the women depicted in his artwork from "forgivably ugly" to "unforgivably ugly" might have had something to do with people's reaction to the exhibit...

Shrine holds the weirdest ritual annually



Ebina: The Aruka Shrine in Japan's Ebina City is the oldest shrine in all of Sagami Province, but to the general public it's known for a unique ceremony that involves a priest wearing a 2-meter-long headgear in the shape of a green onion.

Negi-san, the head priest at Aruka Shrine has been performing the green onion ceremony for about four years , but it only went viral last year, when photos of the priest wearing the bizarre headgear went viral on Japanese social media. It was a pretty weird thing to see, even by Japanese standards, but that only made it more interesting. Here was this masked priest wearing a green skirt and white shirt matching the green-and-white green onion on their head bending over to pass through a small circle wrapped in rope. It made no sense and yet, everyone was intrigued.

Girija Kalyanotsava at N'gud temple from June 26 to July 3: No entry for devotees

Mysuru, June 25 (SSV)- The entry of devotees to Srikanteshwaraswamy Temple in Nanjangud town is restricted during Sri Girija Kalyanotsava to be held from June 26 to July 3 in view of total lockdown imposed by the State Government to check COVID-19 pandemic.

In a press release here, Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham said the order on restricting the general public has been issued under Karnataka Epidemic Diseases (COVID-19) Regulations-2020 and Disaster Management Act, 2005. The rituals must be restricted inside the temple as per tradition and in the presence of priests, temple officers and staff members, he said.

REALLY...?

- Mercury is hot, but not too hot for ice: The closest planet to the Sun does indeed have ice on its surface. That sounds surprising at first glance, but the ice is found in permanently shadowed craters — those that never receive any sunlight. It is thought that perhaps comets delivered this ice to Mercury in the first place. In fact, NASA's MESSENGER spacecraft not only found ice at the north pole, but it also found organics, which are the building blocks for life. Mercury is way too hot and airless for life as we know it, but it shows how these elements are distributed across the Solar System.

Road accidents during lockdown sends alarming signals

Sir,

The statistics of 61 deaths out of 281 accidents in six months is unexpectedly high compared to normal times (refer the news 'No decline in road accidents, deaths' in SOM dated June 23).

That this has happened during COVID-19 lockdown is all the more disturbing and requires a more detailed study to find out the linkages to several other related factors.

Reckless driving is not a new finding but the fact that both the driver and the pillion rider have died in some cases indicates that speed must be unconscionably high. That there was no breathalyser to test the consumption of alcohol is to miss the crucial data. Helmetless riding and triple riding in two-wheelers is the result of poor enforcement by Traffic Police.

The statistics does not give the age details of those died and it is not difficult to guess that majority of them should have been quite young which is doubly tragic and significant for apart from trauma to the family it is a great economic loss.

Ex-CM warns Govt. against Delta Plus variant

- Restrict international flights until 80% of the country is vaccinated
- Coronavirus vaccines should be covered by 'generic drugs'

Bengaluru, June 25 (UNI)- Former Karnataka Chief Minister and Leader of the Opposition Siddharamaiah on Thursday said that even before the end of the second wave of COVID-19, the more dangerous Delta Plus virus started spreading rapidly in the country and is creating panic among the people.

In a letter to Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, he said that the Centre and the State Governments have to take many steps to tackle this virus well before spreading to the masses.

He said it is advisable to restrict international flights until 80% of the country is vaccinated and to keep a close watch on the locations of the virus Delta Plus which are found in some parts of the country.

It is rapidly transforming into new mutant at this juncture and the Governments must vaccinate widely and freely through public campaigns, he said.

Siddharamaiah said vaccine-producing companies should be notified about Government and private vaccines every day.

Siddharamaiah Yediyurappa

According to the recommendations by the experts on the third wave, Private Hospitals have been ordered to accept vaccines from companies for a maximum of 10 days.

Siddharamaiah suggested that the patents on vaccines should first be waived off to produce enough vaccine for all the people in the next three to four months.

Coronavirus vaccines should be covered by 'generic drugs' and Governments should regulate production and distribution, he pointed out.

PM Modi intends to hold a 'CoWIN Global Conclave' on June 30, he said adding that instead of holding a global convention of their achievements, PM Modi should demand world leaders to waive off patent on the Corona vaccines.

AYUSH Department Phone-in on July 5

Mysuru, June 25- District AYUSH Department has organised a phone-in programme at its office on July 5 between 10 am and 11 am.

Public can call Ph: 0821-2512962 and air their grievances related to the AYUSH Department, according to a press release from District AYUSH Officer Dr. B.S. Seethalakshmi.

9,515 children in Mysuru suffer from malnourishment

Anganwadi workers on full-time COVID duty; no time to take care of children

District in-Charge Secretary N. Jayaram chairing the monthly Zilla Panchayat progress review meeting at ZP auditorium yesterday as ZP CEO A.M. Yogesh looks on.

Mysuru, June 25 (MK&BCT)- Over 9,515 children in Mysuru are suffering from malnutrition and of them 135 children are suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition. This shocking revelation has come at a time when there is a threat of COVID third wave affecting children the most.

At the monthly Zilla Panchayat progress review meeting held at Zilla Panchayat auditorium yesterday, District in-Charge Secretary N. Jayaram expressed displeasure over the reports of several children in the district suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition.

Deputy Director for Women and Child Development K. Padma brought the issue to the notice during the meeting that 132 children in the district had been identified as suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition. Of the 9,515 children, 1,500 are from H.D. Kote taluk that is predominantly a tribal area full of forests and tribal hamlets.

Eight tribal children are suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition and 10 have severe forms of other diseases, the officer told the meeting. Taking exception to this, Jayaram questioned the officers where does the free nutritious food supplied to the children by the Government go. "Every month, eight kgs of rice, one kg sugar, two litres of oil, 500 grams ghee and pulses are supplied to each family. Aren't they reaching the tribals?" he questioned.

He suggested measures to control malnutrition and directed the officials concerned to keep a close watch on the children suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition. He also asked them to monitor whether the Government-supplied rations are reaching shops instead of homes. There have been complaints in the past that items like ghee and pulses are sold to shops for money to buy alcohol.

Interestingly, last year Mysuru city had recorded a fall in its number of malnourished children. According to data from the Mysuru Urban Childhood Development Programme Office, in February, the city saw 13 children being malnourished, which is a significant drop from 22 children suffering from malnutrition as of July 2018.

Malnutrition cases have come to light despite health schemes like 'Suposhit Maa Abhiyan' being launched in a bid to create a malnutrition-free country. Officials on condition of anonymity admitted that the COVID lockdown has interrupted crucial Government schemes that benefit thousands of women and children.

Also, Anganwadi workers, who were deployed in large numbers to monitor COVID and create awareness on how to prevent it, are yet to fully return to their original jobs. So Anganwadis in remote areas are not fully functional yet and there is no provision to depute other workers there, said officials.

This has severely compromised the administration's ability to track the status of malnourished children who have been pushed further at risk due to COVID-19. Most tribal women are anaemic and poor. And since undernourished mothers give birth to undernourished babies, experts say the worsening rate of malnutrition could be a result of women struggling to access nutrition benefits.

Two doses of vaccination for all before December end: Health Minister

Bengaluru, June 25 (SSV)- The State Government is determined to administer both the doses of COVID vaccine for all by December end, said Health and Medical Education Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar.

Speaking to media after flagging off a special vaccination drive at State Bar Council here yesterday, he said the Government was taking all measures to vaccinate everyone by this December because vaccine was the only panacea for Corona. Otherwise they need to wear face masks all the time. But, if they do not want to wear it, then everyone must take vaccine, he said.

Govt. efforts

The Minister said the mortality rate has reduced in the State because of the stringent measures taken by the State Government during the second wave though there has been surge in Corona positive cases. The health infrastructure has been ramped up in the State in the last six months. Backlog vacancies of 1,760 medical officers have been filled which were due from last 25 years, he added.

The health sector at district level is being improved to tackle third wave based on recommendations of the committee headed by noted Cardiologist Dr. Devi Shetty.

Dr. Sudhakar said some people were spreading rumours about the vaccine in social media. Unfortunately, people believe such information. The Government wants the citizens to trust only authenticated information from their side. As in the case of small pox, people took many years to trust the vaccine. Hepatitis-B vaccine took 20 years to arrive in India. But they were fast enough to invent vaccine for COVID-19 which was very effective on the contagion, he noted.

He said foreign vaccines were expensive but Prime Minister Narendra Modi was providing the indigenously-developed vaccine free of cost to everyone. People must be explained positively about the vaccine. The Government has taken steps to vaccinate one lakh advocates and their families. It has given priority to professionals who will be in contact with more number of people, he added.

Govt. planning jab for students in colleges

Decision after consulting officers concerned

Bengaluru, June 25 (SSV)- The State Government is seriously considering vaccinating students above 18 years, teaching and non-teaching staff in the respective colleges during next month as per guidelines of the Union Government after consulting officers concerned, said Deputy Chief Minister and Higher Education Minister Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan.

He said the above groups will be considered as a priority group for vaccination which will take place next month.

Dr. Ashwathnarayan, who is also Chairman of the COVID-19 Ministerial Task Force Committee said, the vaccination campaign will be arranged in the colleges. Validation letters issued by the respective institutions need to be submitted before getting vaccinated. Head of the institution and another officer will be appointed as Nodal Officers in every institution, he said.

Offline classes after vaccination

He said offline classes will be started once all the students were vaccinated the first dose. Teaching-learning process has not stopped and it is being continued through digital mode and attendance was must for online classes also.

The Government was cautious about occurrence of Delta Plus cases and the existing vaccines were effective against this variant of the virus also, he added.

Primary & Secondary Education Minister releases SOP for SSLC exams

Suresh Kumar

Bengaluru, June 25 (SSV)- Even as the State Government is in a dual mind on conducting Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) Examination next month, the Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) has been released for teachers and students.

Releasing the SOP here on Wednesday, Primary and Secondary Education Minister S. Suresh Kumar said it was mandatory for all the examination centres to strictly follow it without fail. In each classroom, there will be only 12 students with one student per desk in order to maintain social distancing.

Along with thermal screening, students will also have their oxygen level tested with the help of oximeters. Only if their saturation level is above 94, they will be allowed to write the examination. The SOP mandated sanitising the exam halls, furniture and toilets daily by spraying disinfectant solution before and after the exam. The students are barred from crowding at the examination centres.

He said in the rural areas, arrangements should be made to ensure that the test centres should be created in a manner that students need not go to the taluk-level to appear for the exam.

Vaccinating the teachers, staff and officials involved in conducting the examination with the co-operation of the district administration is compulsory. They must get at least a dose of the vaccine before the exams.

Two rooms reserved

The Minister said two rooms should be reserved for candidates suffering from cough, common cold and flu. There should be a thermal scanner, pulse oximeter, first-aid boxes and hand sanitisers at the entrance. Students would be given masks at the entrance of the health counters in the exam halls. Also, ambulances would be kept ready in each taluk exclusively for those writing the examination.

COVID Care Centre

Suresh Kumar said there would also be a COVID Care Centre for those COVID-positive students to write the exam. If anyone in the family is infected and the candidate is in isolation and is found to be healthy, he or she would be allowed to write the test at the nearby COVID Care Centre after testing the student.

Unlike other States, the State Government decided to conduct the exam in two phases where objective type questions would be asked. The Government said the 10th exam cannot be avoided as it is crucial to decide the stream in which a student should study.

Last year, the Government had successfully conducted the SSLC exams despite the fear expressed by the Opposition parties and experts, he added.

Pending JEE (Main) exam in August, NEET in Sept.

New Delhi, June 25- The Union Government is planning to conduct the first of the two pending JEE (Main) in the last week of July or first week of August, followed by the second within 10 days.

However, the Government is going to take a final call on NEET-UG on whether it will be conducted in August end or September after reviewing the COVID-19 situation across States/UTs.

The Ministry of Education in 2020 announced that the National Testing Agency (NTA) will conduct the engineering entrance test four times a year. However, after conducting the February and March exams, the computer-based test had to be postponed in April 21, 2021 due to the second wave of the pandemic and subsequent lockdown.

Over 6.2 lakh candidates appeared in February exams while 5.5 lakh candidates appeared in the March session of the exams.

The NEET-UG, the entrance exam for MBBS and Dental courses as of now, had been scheduled for August 1, 2021. However, the registration is yet to commence as many parts of the country are still under the COVID-induced lockdown.

Vaccinate SSLC examination staff on priority

Bengaluru, June 25 (SSV)- Primary and Secondary Education Minister S. Suresh Kumar has written to all Deputy Commissioners to vaccinate officers, teachers and staff who are on SSLC exam duty, on priority.

He said DDPIs of all districts will give the list of the personnel on the examination duty and they must be given vaccination before the commencement of the annual examination.

This time, there will be around 6,000 examination centres as only 12 students will be allowed in each classroom with one candidate per desk. So, the number of staff for the examination duty will be more. In view of this, they must be given vaccination on priority, he added.

MIGRANT WORKERS' ENTRY INTO KODAGU

Checking intensified at borders

Those coming for long stay are hand-stamped, quarantined for 14 days; PDOs alerted

Vehicles lined up at Kushalnagar Check-Post near Cauvery Statue before entering Kodagu district this morning following stringent checking.

Kushalnagar, June 25 (Akshay&BCT)- Following the unrestricted entry of migrant workers to many coffee estates of Kodagu triggering COVID infection fear, the District Administration has tightened the security at all entry points and have begun screening of vehicles.

In a report titled "Migrant workers' return to Kodagu triggers infection fear," Star of Mysore had reported yesterday that hundreds of migrant workers from Assam, Bihar, Madhya Pradesh and other States are entering Kodagu in big passenger vehicles and there is no semblance of checking at Kushalnagar Check-Post while only documents are being checked at the Koppa Check-Post from the Mysuru side entrance.

Today morning intensive checking was found both at Koppa and Kushalnagar Gates where each vehicle is stopped and the whereabouts were checked. Today being a Friday — lockdown relaxation day — there was heavy rush at the borders where vehicles lined up in queues extending up to two kilometres. Intensive checking was also reported at Anechowkur Gate and even the Kutta border.

The identity of the vehicle was established and the purpose of the visit was recorded. Tempo Travellers carrying migrants were also checked and their RT-PCR certificates were asked to be produced by the Police, Panchayat and Transport Department officials who are manning the Check-Posts.

Those who are heading towards Kodagu for a long stay are made to produce Aadhaar Cards and the final destination place is recorded. The officials are putting a stamp on the back of travellers' hands stating, 'Home quarantined for 14 days' and the date is also affixed. Their place of stay is noted down and the respective Village Panchayat Development Officers are alerted about the arrival.

Panchayat officials told Star of Mysore today that the respective PDOs will monitor the health of migrants along with ASHA workers of that particular village. "We have orders from the Deputy Commissioner and Superintendent of Police to check all vehicles and report the arrival of migrants to the PDOs and the Health Officers," an official said.

Kushalnagar Circler Inspector of Police Mahesh said that all vehicles are being checked from this morning. "We are not preventing the movement of local vehicles and the vehicles owned by farmers. Today there is rush due to lockdown relaxation. People and migrant workers who are coming from outside for staying in Kodagu are hand-stamped and their identities are being recorded," he added.

Even the Koppa Check-Post was full with vehicles and officials noting down details.

State spells out sops for tourism sector

Mysuru, June 25 (RK&BCT) In a major relief to the tourism and hospitality sectors that have been battered by COVID-19 and the resultant lockdown, the State Government on Thursday announced a slew of concessions and relief measures for hotels, resorts, restaurants and amusement parks, including a 50 percent reduction in property tax.

In a notification to support the ailing tourism sector, the Government said that property tax will be halved for hotels, resorts, restaurants and entertainment parks for the current financial year. In addition, the fixed charges for electricity bills for the months of April, May and June too will be waived off for these establishments.

Further concession has been allowed in other fees these establishments pay to the Government. For excise licence fees and other such charges, commercial enterprises have been given an option to pay only half of the amount now and the rest can be paid before the end of the calendar year.

In addition to these announcements, Government will pay Rs. 5,000 to registered tourist guides. The one-time financial relief is in line with the State Government's relief package announced by Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa to provide support to families of workers in the unorganised sector.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka Tourism Society has said that these announcements will help the battered sector recuperate and would help the industry and many others, who indirectly depend on tourism for their livelihoods. Seeking a relief package as done for some other sectors, the Karnataka Tourism Society had submitted a memorandum to the Chief Minister and the Tourism Minister.

The Association had made demands with respect to the concessions that have been granted in this relief package. Other than these, they had also asked for an exemption from paying the quarterly road tax for vehicles. Mysuru Hotel Owners' Association President C. Narayanagowda too welcomed the measures that will help the hotel and tourism industry.

"A place like Mysuru that depends majorly on tourism income, there has to be some measures to provide relief. We had appealed several times to the Government for a financial package. Though not all of our demands have been met the Government has at least fulfilled a part of our demand. I appeal to the Government to help us tide over the crisis situation," he said.

"I thank Chief Minister Yediyurappa, Opposition leader Siddharamaiah, Karnataka Pradesh Hotel Owners and Restaurants Association (KPHRA) President Chandrashekar Hebbar, Karnataka Tourism Society President Shyamaraju and FKCCI office-bearers for impressing upon the Government for such a step," Narayanagowda added.

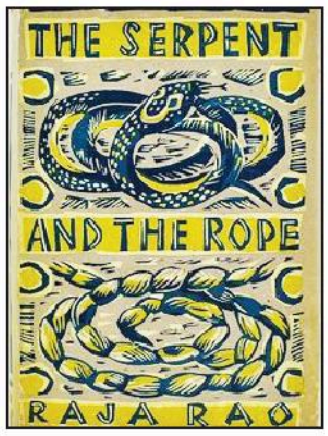
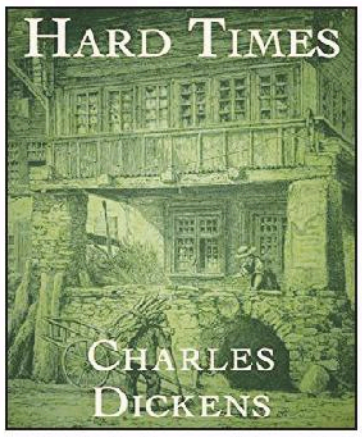
It always happens to others...





[Published on 1.5.1978]

The Myth and Reality. The Serpent and the Rope (the famed Indo-Anglican writer Raja Rao has used this as a title for one of his books). Shadow and the Substance. There is always this problem of identifying the real, the genuine, the authentic.

The problem is not because of the object. It is the subject that creates the problem. Like other day I was meeting a film luminary face-to-face and suddenly discovered that for all his name, fame and money, he is as ordinary as my good old friend Ranga, the village bumpkin. In fact, Ranga does not have the dirty habit of digging into his nose like this film hero. After the first ten minutes all that tinsel glory built around him melted away and I was feeling so nice for there were only two simple human beings — he and I. Not the great film personality and a poor scribe.

This reminds me of what K.P.S. Menon (former Foreign Secretary) had said about meeting great people. According to him all great men, specially political heads, appear to be no different from we ordinary men. Jimmy Carter too discovered, when he was a Governor and had occasion to meet the Presidents and other high-brows, that they were all as ill-informed or inadequate in their knowledge of statecraft as he himself was.

Think of Lawrence of Arabia, an adventurous Junior Army Officer, who died in a motorcycle accident like any other person. When a book is produced building a story around him and then a film is produced by a well-known Director David Lean, the junior, intrepid officer becomes a legend and grows in our mind's eye into a larger-than life size. But that's the way it is. Only it always happens to others.

Like a leaf in the wind

[Published on 4.5.1978]

How do people who have made it in life feel about their achievement? Difficult to say as it largely depends on one's mental outlook. But all the same there is a parentheses wherein we can fit their thoughts.

For example, the Rajamata of Gwalior says of her life: "I am like a leaf in the wind. Nothing was ever planned in my life. Everything just happened." I am sure many would say the same. However, there are those snobs, vain people who boast of their hard work, intelligence and qualities of head and hand which put them on the high pedestal of power and glory. They talk like the "Self-made" person in Charles Dickens' novel "Hard Times".

There is also a curious thing about the people who are very rich or very poor. A rich man will tell you how poor he was and sounds as though he was content with life even then. A poor man will tell you how rich he was, or at least his ancestors were and how bad luck fell upon him. Yet times, I feel that I am the only person in this world without this kind of hang-up. I do not know what R.K. Narayan has got to say about it. He is the only person who can write about these people with telling effect using his 'masala' of wit and cold sarcasm.—PUCK

NOTE: In the beginning Abracadabra column did not carry a headline like in later days. For some years it only had a pen name 'PUCK' for its author.—Ed

Beds vacant at K.R.Hospital COVID Ward: Nodal Officer

Dr. Dinesh

Mysuru, June 25 (MK&SSV)- Strictly adhering to safety protocol given by experts and taking preventive measures can only reduce COVID mortality rate, opined Dr. H.N. Dinesh, Surgeon and Nodal Officer, COVID-19 Emergency Ward Bed Maintenance at K.R. Hospital.

Talking to SOM, he said the Hospital with the help of PG students has so far treated 3,500 Corona patients. The demand for bed has now reduced. Of the total 589 beds, only 228 are occupied and the rest was vacant. Now, there is no shortage of oxygen too. "During the peak of second wave people were struggling to get admission. I have seen patients gasping for breath. Fortunately, we have come out of pressure after two months and many people have returned home after recovery," he said.

Dr. Dinesh said despite lockdown in force, still people injured in road mishaps, assaults and other cases were getting admitted to hospital. This shows the apathy of citizens to follow Corona guidelines. Before blaming the Government for everything they must first follow certain precautions. "I had contracted the virus and spent 14 days in home quarantine. I am staying away from my kids for two months. Even children have understood the seriousness of this epidemic but the elders are showing negligence resulting in spike in cases," he said.

Rush for vaccination drive

At some vaccination booths, fruits and juice packets were distributed to all those people who are involved in providing vaccinations. Notably, the packets had the face of the area MLA on them. After distributing the fruits and juice, volunteers went inside the booths to get their jabs. Twin purpose is served here — fruits distribution and also vaccination.

Systematic crowd handling at Charaka Hospital earns laurels

The Charaka Government Ayurveda Post Graduation Centre on KRS Road has stood out for systematic and efficient handling in the free vaccination process ever since the vaccination drive began in city since April last week. Several people who have taken jabs here without any hassle have lauded the efforts of the Hospital authorities.

The Hospital, located in Brindavan Layout on KRS Road, is one of the major vaccination centres doling out the jabs in a well organised way where more than 1,000 people are being vaccinated every day. Now even after the Hospital was open for vaccinating 18-44 age groups, the rush is managed by a set of PG students, doctors and Red Cross Society volunteers.

A token system is adopted here where after the tokens are distributed, announcements are made through loud speakers so that the vaccine beneficiary comes to the booth to take the jabs. The centre functions under Nodal Officer Dr. Mudassir Azeez Khan and Dr. Anusha Vas. Apart from them, Manjunath and Guru S. Gowda from Red Cross and a team of 10 nurses and nine Red Cross volunteers are managing the show.

There is ample space for parking on the road and also near a park at the Hospital and two Police constables have been deputed here from V.V. Puram Police Station to man the traffic and rush. Separate queues have been designated for those in the age group of 18 to 44 and those above 45 years of age.

Haemophilia patients vaccinated

This morning, over 30 haemophilia patients were vaccinated at Charaka Hospital and the drive was organised in association with Mysuru Haemophilia Association. It is important that haemophilia treatment centres, in close collaboration with patient organisations, take action to inform people with bleeding disorders about the COVID-19 vaccines and contribute to an effective vaccination programme, say the guidelines.

For patients with severe/moderate haemophilia, the COVID injection should be given after a factor VIII (FVIII) or factor IX (FIX) injection, according to guidance from Haemophilia Associations. At Charaka vaccination centre, procedures were followed as per guidelines and after the factor VIII (FVIII) or factor IX (FIX) shots they were kept under observation for 15 minutes for any adverse reactions. Only then vaccines were administered.

MCC extends last date to pay Property Tax

Lakshmikanth Reddy

Mysuru, June 25 (RK& SSV)- Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has extended last date for payment of property tax with 5 percent rebate up to July 31. The State Government had given time till June 30 for the payment of property tax in view of strict lockdown in city due to Corona crisis. Now, it has been further extended till July 31 and with 5 percent rebate, said G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Commissioner, MCC.

He said the Corporation had introduced online payment of property tax to avoid people from coming to office personally for the payment of tax which may trigger Corona positive cases. Now, most of the citizens were paying tax online. With further extension in time, more and more people will come forward to pay tax voluntarily, he added.

The Chairman said that the MUDA would not only allot the CA sites to Schools, Colleges, Kalyana Mantaps, Community Halls, but also to Fair Price Shops, Milk Booths, HOPCOMS, Co-operative Societies, Indoor Stadiums, Meditation Centres, Yoga Centres, Anganwadi Centres, Cultural Music Organisations, Garadis, Vyayama Schools, Layout Welfare Development Associations, Industrial Associations, Orphanages, Skill Training Centres, Hostels and others. Such organisations will be allotted small sized sites to promote a variety of cultural activities.

For the first time in the history of MUDA, the CA sites will be sold to social service organisations at an affordable price. Details of every CA site have been verified before making allotments. A notification in this regard will be issued in newspapers to invite applications from the eligible associations/organisations, he added.

BJP observes 'Black Day' on Emergency anniversary

Mysuru, June 25 (RKB&SSV)- The City BJP Unit today observed 'Black Day' as a mark of protest against the imposition of Emergency on nation by the Congress Government in 1975.

It was on this day 46 years ago, the then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had clamped Emergency.

As part of this observation, a Webex meeting was organised by City BJP Unit with a view to tell the present generation about the dark days of Emergency, its effect on nation, curtailment of citizens' power and stamping out people's movement. One from each Assembly segment was selected from all eight Assembly Constituencies for online lecture and those eight persons had to add two important persons from each Constituency. Those two had to link with 12 persons in each Assembly segment.

The resource persons were S.R. Gopala Rao, District Convener 'Black Day' observation Committee and his brother, S.R. Narayana Rao, who suffered a lot during Emergency. BJP District Rural President Mangala Somashekar and Vice-President Dasaiah were present.

The Rao brothers explained how the country suffered during two years of Emergency when the Government agencies became the puppets in the hands of Indira Gandhi. Those who raised their voice against the then Government were arrested and sent to jail.

Karnataka Prani Kalyana Mandali Zonal President Dr. Krishna Mittal feted

Mysuru, June 25 (PM&SD) - KMPK Charitable Trust in association with Prani Pakshigala Samrakshana Samithi felicitated Karnataka Prani Kalyana Mandali Zonal President Dr. S. Krishna Mittal at Maharaja's Grounds in city yesterday.

The programme was held as part of KMPK Charitable Trust's 'Prani Pakshi Seva Jagruthi,' a campaign to feed stray dogs in city during the current lockdown period. Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Krishna Mittal lauded the efforts of the Trust and urged the public to join hands with the Trust.

Addressing the gathering, Zoo Authority of Karnataka (ZAK) Chairman L.R. Mahadevaswamy said, "After the recent appeal made by cine actor Darshan Thoogudeepa on behalf of Zoo Authority of Karnataka, hundreds of donors have come forward to adopt Zoo animals. In a similar manner, MCC must implement an action plan to feed and take care of stray animals in every area of the city."

KMPK Charitable Trust President Vikram Iyengar, MUDA Member Lakshmidevi, Mysuru City Bharatiya Janata Party Backward Classes Morcha President Jogi Manju, Jeevadhara Girish, Krishnarajendra Co-operative Bank Vice-President Basavaraj Basappa, NR Constituency BJP Yuva Morcha President Lohit, leaders Rakesh Kunchatiga and others were present.

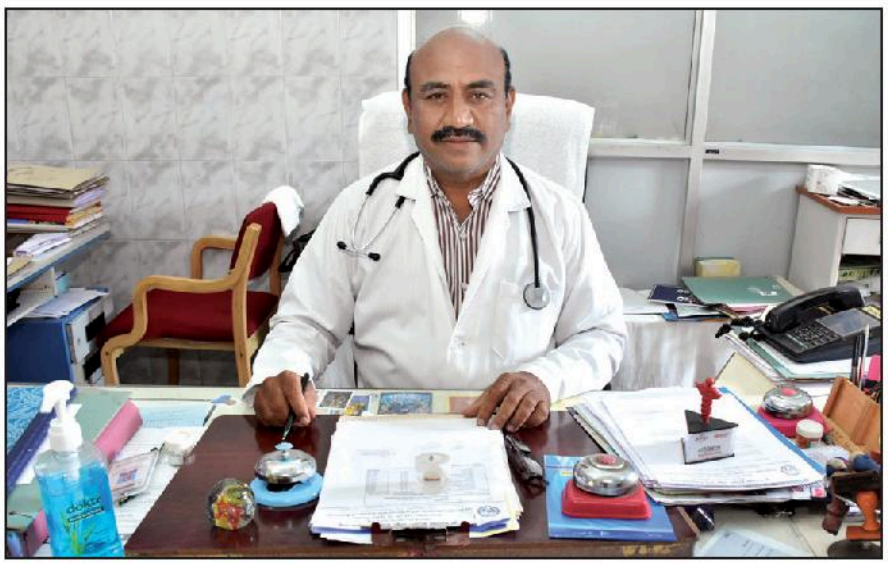
The Jayanti will be celebrated in a symbolic manner by showering flower petals on the portrait of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, according to a press release from the Kannada and Culture Department.

From Student to Superintendent...

Dr. Virupaksha's Journey at PKTB Hospital



It is very rare and indeed an honour for any student to Head the institution in which he studied and a matter of pride for teachers. This is true in the case of Dr. H.M. Virupaksha, Medical Superintendent of Princess Krishnajammanni Tuberculosis Hospital (PKTB Sanatorium), under MMC&RI, Mysuru, where he was once a student. After putting in over 33 years in Government service, he will be retiring on June 30, 2021. Before attaining superannuation, Dr. Virupaksha shared his experiences amid the pandemic with Star of Mysore. Excerpts.—Ed

By Shyam Sundar Vattam

Star of Mysore (SOM): Had you read about Coronavirus during your MBBS or MD courses?

Dr. H.M. Virupaksha: We had studied in our medicine books about Coronavirus way back in 1983-84. But the present COVID-19 virus is a deadly variant of that virus which we had studied. In my three decades of medical profession, I had not seen such a dangerous virus. It is common to get fever due to certain viruses that will go away after taking medicines. But COVID-19 has snuffed the lives of lakhs of people across the globe. Studies are going on across the world and our scientists will defeat the Coronavirus today or tomorrow.

SOM: What was your experience when you came across the first case of Corona in your Hospital? Were you afraid?

Dr. Virupaksha: Everything was normal till February, 2020. Suddenly, we heard about the virus entering several States in India including Karnataka. The entire medical fraternity was shocked after the first Corona death was reported in Kalaburagi. After the Corona positive cases started coming to K.R. Hospital and District Hospital, we were confused about the line of treatment. Initially, the X-ray technicians at K.R. Hospital refused to take the X-rays of suspected patients as they feared of being contracting the virus. Hence, I learnt the basics of taking X-ray from technicians and took the X-rays of patients myself. Later, the staff started practicing the safety protocol to protect themselves from the virus. Since the beginning, I was telling one thing — Infection is different, disease is different and death is different. If there are 10 persons in a family, not all will be infected with the virus. It is known as susceptibility. Coronavirus may have come and gone from many people amongst us without any symptoms. It is not because of immunity but due to susceptibility.

SOM: What difference do you see between the first and the second wave?

Dr. Virupaksha: In the first wave, the medical staff attended to Corona positive patients wearing PPE kits. And in the second wave, they were treating patients with the minimum safety gadgets. The increase in positive cases is not a thing to worry but the rise in mortality rate is worrisome. I have seen patients getting cured with medicine costing just Rs.10 and at the same time, I have come across patients dying even after spending lakhs of rupees. Fortunately, the situation is slowly coming under control and I personally feel that Corona will be eradicated soon.

SOM: You had said that Coronavirus was airborne and does not spread through touching or shaking hands. Can you elaborate on it?

Dr. Virupaksha: I had told my doctor-friends that this virus was airborne and does not spread through physical contact in April, 2020 itself. Eight months after my observation, the World Health Organisation (WHO) experts told the same thing. Even tuberculosis (TB) virus spreads through air and that has been the reason for the death of Princess Krishnajammanni and her kids in early 19th Century despite staying inside the Mysore Palace.

SOM: It seems you have found out an easy way to increase oxygen level in human body. Can you please explain?

Dr. Virupaksha: Recently, a doctor requested for a bed in District Hospital for his son whose oxygen level had gone below 91. I advised him to take his son for a 5-km-long drive in car with the windows open and check the oxygen level after coming back. The doctor called up to inform me that his son's oxygen level had crossed 95. Then I told to keep his son under home isolation for 10 days without admitting him to the hospital but on the condition that the boy must be made to sit on open terrace for one hour daily to breathe fresh air. Now, the boy has totally recovered.

A similar advice had been given to many of my relatives in villages who tested positive. My 80-year-old mother had tested positive and now she has recovered fully.

SOM: What improvements have been done during your 7-year stint as PKTB Medical Superintendent?

Dr. Virupaksha: A lot of improvements were done during my tenure. Two Wards were renovated at a cost of Rs.65 lakh. This institute is celebrating 100 years during November 2021. As this was the only TB Hospital in the State then, patients from all districts and neighbouring States used to come here for treatment. I am happy of doing something worthwhile for the institution.

SOM: Please tell us about your childhood and your family background?

Dr. Virupaksha on his morning rounds yesterday.

Dr. Virupaksha: I belong to a middle class family. My father, H.C. Mahadevappa was running a small hotel 'Ganesh Bhavan' at Halagur in Malavalli taluk of Mandya District. Ours was a big family with four brothers and a sister. Our hotel was famous for 'dosa' with butter. Political bigwigs like Ramakrishna Hegde, H.D. Deve Gowda, S.M. Krishna and S.R. Bommai had visited our hotel to eat 'dosas' on their way to Bengaluru or Mysuru. After passing away of my father, my brothers are still running this hotel. I was the only child to pursue medicine and became a doctor.

After College, I completed MBBS from Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College, Belagavi in 1985 and joined Mysore Medical College (MMC&RI) to do MD course in Pulmonary Medicine. I was interested more in teaching than practicing. So, I joined PKTB Hospital as lecturer and got promotion as Assistant Professor, Associate Professor and Professor. In 2014, I was made Medical Superintendent of my own institution.

SOM: Being born and brought up in a rural set up, how has it impacted your service as a doctor?

Dr. Virupaksha: Our family did not have problems of food or clothing but we were not born rich with all luxuries. After I became doctor, I understood what is poverty or hunger. I happened to see poor farmers, daily wagers and others in lower strata of society striving for a meal. This had a great impact on me. This made me to render service to poor and needy with much vigour. So, I had the opportunity of treating thousands of people in the Hospital, thanks to great teachers like Dr. S.G. Desai in Belagavi College.

SOM: How do you feel after serving for over 33 years in Government service?

Dr. Virupaksha: I am indebted to Government of Karnataka for providing me free medical education. I did not spend any money on pursuing the MD course since it was a free Government seat. After becoming the Medical Superintendent of PKTB, I got full support from each and every person and more importantly the entire Group 'D' staff. I still remember by school teacher, Ramakka who laid a strong foundation. If I am in this position, it is because of the blessings from people like Dr. Desai, Ramakka and others. I received full support from the District Administration to improve the PKTB Hospital coming under Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI), Government of Karnataka.

SOM: Your retirement plans?

Dr. Virupaksha: After my retirement, I am planning to give more time to my children, H.V. Shreyas (pursuing his CA course) and H.V. Sheetal (an engineering graduate), who are denied of motherly care and affection since my wife passed away in a road accident in 2012.

Enquiries are coming from some Medical Colleges asking me to work as Honorary Professor but I have not made up my mind yet. Whatever it is, I am definitely going to miss my alma mater■

Youth commits suicide on his birthday

He had earlier attempted to end life twice

Mysuru, June 25 (RK,SBD &KS)- A 30-year-old youth has reportedly committed suicide by consuming poison on his birthday on Wednesday night.

The deceased is S. Karthik, a Medical Representative, who was residing at N.R. Mohalla in city. He had earlier attempted to end his life on two occasions, but was saved. Unfortunately on Wednesday night, he ended his life by consuming poison near Paschimavahini in Srirangapatna and the incident came to light yesterday morning, when passersby came across his body and informed the Police.

S. Karthik

It is learnt that Karthik lost his mother Dr. Parvathi when he was just two-years-old and his father Shivalingaiah passed away a few years back. He was under the care of his aunt and was residing at a rented room in N.R. Mohalla here.

On Wednesday night at about 10.30, one of his friends saw him standing near the Toll Gate on Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway and when his friend questioned him, Karthik is said to have told his friend that he was waiting for someone. Karthik then took a drop on his friend's bike to Siddalingapura and had walked to Paschimavahini where he reportedly consumed poison and ended his life, according to the Police.

Srirangapatna Police, who have registered a case, shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary in city and when the Police inspected his room they found a note written in English stating, 'Friends, if I have hurt anyone please forgive me. I will not be with you all in future.' The Police have also found a gold chain and a gold finger ring in the room, according to Police sources.

It was his third attempt: Karthik, who had lost his parents, had attempted to end his life twice earlier, but luckily, he had survived.

Five years ago, on his mother's death anniversary, Karthik had attempted suicide by consuming poison. He was rushed to a hospital immediately and was thus saved. Three years ago, on his father's death anniversary, he had jumped from a moving train in a bid to end his life and had sustained serious injuries. He was rushed to a hospital and after undergoing treatment, Karthik had recovered and was continuing with his work. But on the third attempt on his birthday, Karthik ended his life, it is learnt.

WORD OF THE DAY

Emeritus

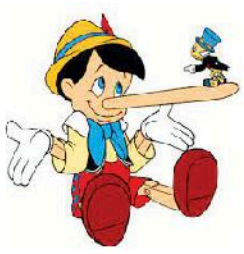
Pronunciation: ih-MEH-ruh-tus.
Meaning: Holding after retirement an honorary title corresponding to that held last during active service; retired from an office or position.
Origin: In Latin, emeritus was used to describe soldiers who had completed their duty. It is the past participle of the verb emereri, meaning "to serve out one's term," from the prefix e-, meaning "out," and merēre, "to earn, deserve, or serve." (Merēre is also the source of our word merit.) English speakers claimed emeritus as their own in the late 17th century, applying it as both a noun and an adjective referring or relating not to soldiers but to someone who is retired from professional life but permitted to keep as an honorary title the rank of the last office they held. The adjective is frequently used postpositively—that is, after the noun it modifies rather than before it—and it is most commonly used to describe specifically those retired from a professorship.
Example: As pope emeritus, Benedict retains the style of His Holiness and continues to dress in the papal colour of white.

THE ODD WORD

Eccrinology
Study of excretion.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Economical with the truth



Meaning: Conveying an untrue version of events by leaving out the important facts. A euphemism for lying, in short.
Origin: Recorded from the 18th century, although rarely used. It was brought into the contemporary language by the UK Cabinet Secretary, Sir Robert Armstrong, who used the phrase during the Australian 'Spycatcher' trial in 1986.
Lawyer: What is the difference between a misleading impression and a lie?
Armstrong: A lie is a straight untruth.
Lawyer: What is a misleading impression - a sort of bent untruth?
Armstrong: As one person said, it is perhaps being "economical with the truth". What Armstrong left out (perhaps he knew but was being economical) was that the 'one person' was Edmund Burke. In 1796 Burke wrote:
"Falsehood and delusion are allowed in no case whatsoever: But, as in the exercise of all the virtues, there is an economy of truth."
In 1992, Alan Clark was cross-examined during the Matrix Churchill case and embroidered the phrase a little:
Clark: Well it's our old friend "being economical", isn't it?
Lawyer: With the truth?
Clark: With the actualité.

Sudoku is a number-placing puzzle based on a 9x9 grid with several given numbers. The object is to place the numbers 1 to 9 in the empty squares so that each row, each column and each 3x3 box contains the same number only once. The difficulty level of the Concept is Sudoku increases from Monday to Sunday.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

Mysuru entrepreneur is National

President of Business Women Association

Mysuru, June 25 (BCT)- Mysuru entrepreneur Kuppanda Chayaa Nanjappa Rajappa has been appointed as the National President of Association of Business Women in Commerce and Industry. She is a first generation rural woman entrepreneur and Founder-Managing Partner of Nectar Fresh.

Nectar Fresh, backed by Khadi and Village Industry Board, has its unit in Srirangapatna, Mandya district. It offers various products like honey, jams, sauces, chia seeds and natural vinegar.

A recipient of various awards like CNBC-TV18 and Women Entrepreneur Award in 2014-2015, Chayaa was also honoured by Indian Federation of Culinary Association for breaking the monopoly of the international brands. She bagged the Business Person of the Year Award by Mysore Chamber of Commerce & Industry (MCCI) in 2019.

Nectar Fresh has been the first brand in India to be using the 'Women Owned' logo of 'We Connect'. Their latest venture 'Veeravrutham' is the first social enterprise in 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat' which will support over 3,000 tribals and rural artisans locally. Tribal and rural artisans' products will gain place not only in the Indian market but will also find place in the international market.

Born to Paruvangada Nanjappa and Poly Nanjappa of Nalkeri village in Kodagu, Chayaa is married to Kuppanda Rajappa, who was the first businessman to bring in the concept of supermarket (Nilgiris) to Mysuru. The couple has donated one acre of land for a Bharat-Israel Study Centre through Diya Minora Foundation, a sister concern of Veeravrutham Foundation. It will be a culture and technology exchange platform between India and Israel.

Chayaa is motivated by the principles of Rashtriya Swayam Sevak Sangh (RSS) and has implied the principles in her profession besides working in various fields apart from business. She is the first woman to hold a national-level position in Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) and also holds a position in the State Committee of RSS' Laghu Udyog Bharti.

She is a member of the executive committee of the R&D Institute for Food and Technology at Indian Institute of Food Processing Technology (IIFPT) and is one of them from the industry to be chosen as part of the National Honey Mission.

Parent Craft at Columbia Asia Hospital

Virtual session guides 68 expectant mothers

Mysuru, June 25- For an expectant mother, her life revolves around the baby as soon as she is confirmed about her pregnancy. During this phase, she is often puzzled about pregnancy. To address these conundrums, Columbia Asia Hospital, Mysuru (a unit of Manipal Hospitals) had recently organised Parent Craft, a webinar to address all queries from the to-be-mothers.

Parent Craft is an informative event organised by Columbia Asia Hospital to assist soon-to-be mothers in terms of their health, precautions to be taken during pregnancy, delivery methods and taking care of the new-borns. This session not only addressed the queries by expectant mothers, but also proved to be an educative session helping the to-be-parents to understand more about the lifestyle, diet and exercise which they need to follow.

This virtual meet was addressed by Dr. Madhura Phatak, Consultant, Obstetrics & Gynaecology, Dr. B.P. Anjali, Consultant, Obstetrics & Gynaecology, Dr. Bhuvaneshwar, Consultant, Paediatrics — all from Columbia Asia Hospital, Mysuru — Shifain, Dietetics & Nutrition, Pavitra, Nursing and Aruna from Physiotherapy. Topics like premature delivery, pre-eclampsia, high blood pressure during pregnancy, exercises, diet and methods of delivery were discussed in this virtual meet.

Highlighting the importance of the session, Dr. Madhura Phatak said "Parent Craft helps women to get over their confusions about pregnancy and delivery. This is the time when they have to be relaxed and enjoy every moment. Knowing the facts and breaking the myths is crucial at this point. Creating awareness among the expectant mothers and building their confidence will help in a healthy delivery. In this session we educated both to-be-mothers and family members."

Dr. Anjali said, "Starting from the right diet to following the required exercise regime, everything counts to have a healthy pregnancy. It is common to be confused during this time. But clarifying it and taking the right step will help both the mother and the infant. With COVID cases everywhere, many had come up with questions about infection during pregnancy and how it might impact their delivery."

Replying to the queries related to new-borns, Dr. Bhuvaneshwar said "Delivering a healthy baby is the foremost concern of every mother and they take all precautions to ensure it. However, taking care of the new-born may be a challenging task initially as the mother needs to be well aware of neonatal procedures like holding the baby or feeding it.."

In this educative session, the hospital organised exercise demos which are vital during pregnancy and post-delivery. To educate about the food to be consumed, healthy diet recipes were also shared with the participants. Sixty-eight expectant mothers enthusiastically shared their experience. Questions related to delivery options like vaginal birth, C section, epidural delivery were also discussed during the session.

Kudos to Kiwis

The inaugural edition of the ICC World Test Championship 2019-21 started on the 1st of August, 2019 with the Ashes Series and ended at this final on the 23rd of June, 2021 at the Rose Bowl, England. In the 61 matches of the Championship played between 9 nations, Marnus Labuschagne topped batting with 1,675 runs at an average of 73. Ashwin topped bowling with 71 wickets. Black Caps beat India in the finals.

Epitome of character is when you deliver in difficult situations. That was exactly what skipper Williamson (52*) and Taylor (47*) did in the 2nd innings to pip India by 8 wickets in the finals at the Hampshire Bowl, Southampton, England, to lift the 'World Test Championship' trophy.

Momentum was clearly with the Kiwis since the beginning of the Test. The team was oozing with confidence having beaten the English decisively at 1-0 in a 'two Tests' series in the English backyard; just before the WTC. As a unit, they gelled and excelled on the field.

Thanks to the efficient design of storm-water drainage, the outfield at Hampshire Bowl sustained torrential rains on the 17th and 18th; and showers in-between; reducing the Test to a three day encounter. Though the outfield was a tad slow, the 22 yard played very well and consistent. Full marks to the curator and team for untiring efforts in maximising play times.

Mediocrity was writ large in the Indian camp. There was no authoritative batting display in both the innings. Needless to repeat that the opening partnerships bear great strength in building innings. Neither Rohit nor Gill exhibited any intent to stay, grind the new ball and consolidate. Cutting and pulling short-pitched deliveries are fundamental to batting but, patience in the 1st session or 30 overs is the key.

On the hind-sight, it is painful to see seasoned campaigners in Shikhar Dhawan, K.L. Rahul and Mayank Agarwal out of the side. Mark my words. 'No other country will give so many opportunities'. Several questions arose in the bargain. Do we indulge in too many chopping and changing? Are we forgetting the youngsters like Washy Sundar, Md. Siraj, Shardul Thakur? Did India pick the wrong eleven? What is the kind of damage created to young minds in the melee? Is fear factor killing talent — like the forgotten Karun Nair who was totally sidelined after scoring triple hundred against the English; His maiden?

In the midst of this melee, Pujara looked shaky and vulnerable. Virat and Rahane looked out of sorts. Pant lived by the sword and perished by the sword in the 2nd inning. There was nothing to expect from either Jadeja or Ashwin. Score cards reading — IND 217&170 and NZ 249&140/2 — doesn't augur well for a WTC final.

However, bowling department on both the sides did very well. The 3rd ICC ranked Tim Southee-led from the front for Kiwis. Young Kyle Jamieson virtually jammed our batting with 7 for 61. They were backed by Trent Boult; 5 for 86; sending 'bolts from the blue' and Neil Wagner effectively.

For India, Md. Shami was the most effective with 4 for 76. Ashwin bowled with imagination scalping 4 for 45; ably supported by Ishant. Somehow, Bumrah was ineffective leaking 92 without a wicket.

Kiwi Wicket-Keeper Watling announced his retirement. Per commentator, Ian Bishop, Watling is a Wk/Batsman who cherished coming to the crease in challenging circumstances and produced wonderful knocks. The 35-year-old South Africa-born-keeper-cum-batsman in his 75 appearances became only the 10th in test history to have scored a double hundred against England in 2019. Cricket-lovers wish him well and thank him for his tenure.
